SERVANTS TELL OF CABOT'S ACTS AT HIS MEALS

Miss Esther Murphy of No. 253 West Newton street, South End, now a pastry clerk at No. 11 Summer street, but formerly cook, chambermaid and waitress at various times in the household of Louis Cabot, testified today at the continued contest of Mr. Cabot's $2,000,000 will that Mrs. Cabot would hide behind a screen if her husband happened to enter the dining room while she was fixing his place at the breakfast table.

Miss Murphy said that Mrs. Cabot did not wish her husband to see her and, when he passed, Mrs. Cabot would slip from behind the screen and go to her own room, where her breakfast was served.

Under cross-examination Miss Murphy was asked if Mr. Cabot said anything about people with whom he played golf in Brookline.

"He called Alec Campbell a fool and a jackass," replied the witness. She added on further question, that Mr. Cabot used an expletive before the epithets. Alec Campbell is professional golfer at the Country Club.

SHOOK HIS FIST AT THEM.

She testified that Mr. Cabot once struck on the nose a dog which was sitting up on its hind legs, begging for bread, and that he once shook his fist at her and a girl friend when they looked at him through a window when he was in his wheel chair.

Asked by Charles F. Choate, Jr., counsel for the will, to show how Mr. Cabot shook his fist, Miss Murphy smiled, raised her clenched hand and shook it at the eminent counsel.

In direct testimony Miss Murphy said:

"Mrs. Cabot never came down to breakfast, but she would come down ahead of Mr. Cabot, fix his place at the table and see that everything was all right. Miss Spicer would breakfast with Mr. Cabot.

"Mr. Cabot would usually say on coming into the room, 'Good morning,' but Mr. Cabot never spoke to us.

"Sometimes Mr. Cabot would get up from his chair, go over to the fireplace and poke the fire. Then he would return and sit down at the table.

"I always served Mr. Cabot first. Sometimes he would ask me for something, but when I saw his glass empty I would fill it for him. He usually sat at the table with one leg over the other. Most of the time he sat sideways. His cane was on the floor on those occasions. One time he asked me to put a stick of wood on the fire. Then he would ask me to go into the library and put a stick of wood on the fire there.

GIRL AVOIDED HIM.

"Whenever I saw him in the hallway of the house I would avoid him. For instance, if I was going along the hallway and I saw him coming toward me I would withdraw by going into a room so he would not see me.

"The last time I was at the house he spoke to me. That was the only time. It was in 1912. I was in the kitchen and was passing. He stopped at the door, looked in and said: 'Esther, I'm very glad to see you back.' I thanked him for his remark."

Q.—If Mr. Cabot's food wasn't served promptly, did anything happen? A.—Yes, sir. Mr. Cabot would jump up and run away.

Q.—Do you remember any specific

BOSTON'S RESPONSE TO "BUNDLE DAY"—SCENE AT RECEIVING STATION

STILL TIME FOR GIVING A BUNDLE

Volunteer autos are needed to complete the Bundle Day collection. Over fifty wagons and autos are engaged in the work of collection and the contributions are so numerous and the public has responded so generously that the work has exceeded the greatest expectation of the committee.

Twenty-five autos or trucks volunteered for a few hours' work will clean up all the calls.

Will automobile and truck owners help this work?

Phone Bundle Day Committee, Main 5850.

The Bundle Day Committee today issued two appeals to the people of Greater Boston.

One was that those whose bundles have not yet been collected be patient, for the response to the committee's appeal for bundles was so tremendous that it was impossible to take care of all contributions yesterday. Other bundles will be collected before Sunday.

The second appeal was for volunteers to help sort the immense quantity of clothing which has come in and prepare it for delivery to those who need it.

The flood of answers to the appeal for bundles yesterday was beyond anything the committee had thought possible. It had been expected that the last contributions that bundles were ready would be received about 6 o'clock, Tuesday night. But after

Sharood Attacks Rock Island Assets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—That the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company reported to its stockholders as assets of the corporation worth millions, securities of subsidiaries which generally are considered of little or no value, was the statement made today by Frederick C. Sharood, expert accountant for the Interstate Commerce Commission, at the reopening of the inquiry into the railroad's finances.

Sharood said that the Rock Island's annual report to its stockholders, dated June 30, 1914, declared the corporation had a surplus of $6,130,547. He stated that should the Rock Island's holdings of these "deficit assets" be rated at their true value, no actual surplus would appear.

'Watchful Waiting' Cost $13,000,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Additional appropriations of more than $2,000,000 to meet the expenses of the occupation of Vera Cruz and of keeping interned Mexican refugees in Texas and New Mexico were contained in the general deficiency bill reported to the House. It is now estimated that the total cost of the Mexican policy to the United States has been $13,000,000.

HOSPITAL CHARGE STIRS FITCHBURG

The little town of Middleton, where Pernecroft Inn of "Tondies" fame is located—boiled with political excitement today when the "drys" took steps to have thirty-seven voters, registered as cooks and waiters at Pernecroft, cross-examined by the registrars on the ground that their legal homes are not in Middleton.

The "drys" say that they have those thirty-seven names stricken from the voting list and that this will give them a sure majority to vote Middleton into the no-license column and kill the Pernecroft liquor license. The town went "wet" last year by only two votes.

Town election comes Monday and, under the statute, the registrars must grant a hearing on challenged registration two days before election. So a lively session is expected Saturday.

Representative Albert F. Hennessey, Henry Bertram Bond, the Middleton attorney, and a determined citizens' committee are on the trail of the supposed illegal voters. Attorney Bond declares he has information that should bar the Pernecroft waiters from casting a ballot.

The present agitation on the "Drys" dates back to the time when as members of the citizen's committee assert, the registrars of the town, consisting of the Selectmen executed a most unusual procedure by going to the inn and there registering seventy waiters and cooks who gave Middleton as their legal home.

U. S. Cutters Save British Steamer

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 25.—The British steamer Pictonia. This was towed into Halifax today by the United States revenue cutters Gresham and Androscoggin. She was picked up last night by the cutters after signalling for help. The Pictonia was bound from New Orleans to Pictou, Nova

Schoool in Flames, 100 Girls Escape

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—One hundred girls, pupils of Mercedes Morrell's fashionable school on Jackson boulevard and Wabash avenue, were driven from the building by fire today. Many had narrow escapes, but none was injured. The school was destroyed.

Russia Seeks Port Open All the Year

PETROGRAD, Feb. 25.—The Russian government today placed loans for $1,800,000, to be used for building north of Archangel, to connect Interior Russia with a port that will be open all the year round.

May Wheat Opens Lower at $1.55 1-2

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—May wheat, opening at $1.55½, was ½c lower, and July at 12s was ½c lower than yesterday's close.

CONSPIRACY REVEALED BY FORMER BOSTON MAN

BIG RAID ON BRITISH SHIPPING

VENICE, Feb. 25. Three new German submarines have arrived by rail at Pola, the chief naval port of Austria. It is believed that they will soon be put in operation in the Adriatic Sea.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Reports of the destruction of four more ships today and the possible loss of five others have convinced maritime observers that Germany has succeeded in throwing a ring of submarines around the British Isles.

That Berlin will succeed in making effective her food blockade is no longer regarded as a idle dream. German activity increasing daily.

Among the victims of the "great war" reported today are the steamers Western Coast, Florida Parana and Harpalion, and the British collier Dependent.

A Belgian steamship is reported in distress off the Spanish coast, while two British steamers, the steamship City of Brussels from Roterdam and the Spanish freighter Spetra, are overdue and may have been destroyed by mines or torpedoes.

The Rio Parana was sunk off East Bourne pier by a submarine. Her crew of thirty men were landed at New Haven. She was of 2,000 tons burden and was laden with coal.

(The Rio Parana may be the unidentified steamer mentioned in last evening's dispatches to the AMERICAN as being sunk off East Bourne.)

The crew of the collier Dependent, which sunk in the North Sea, off Scarborough,

Bombs Dropped By an Aviator Kill 30 German

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 25.—Thirty German soldiers are reported to have been killed and 200 wounded in the bombardment of Dixmude, Belgium, by a Belgian aviator, according to dispatches from Amsterdam. Some of the bombs dropped nearly twenty pounds each, some of which exploded on Dixmude Bridge.

The attacks occurred different days and at several times.

Turkish Forts Repel Attack By 7 Warships

ATHENS, Feb. [illegible]—A dispatch received here from Mytilene, Greek island in the Aegean sea, says that seven Turkish warships attempted to bombard the Turkish forts on the Dardanelles, but were driven off by the fire of the forts. The Turkish warships were damaged in the engagement.

Allies Again Shell Dardanelles Forts

ATHENS, Feb. 25.—The Greek Press Bureau issued the following official statement today:

"The Turkish forts on the Dardanelles opened fire on the entrance of the straits. The allied warships replied and bombarded the forts on the European and Asiatic shores. The engagement lasted several hours. The forts were damaged, but the warships were not damaged."

National Strike Is Threatened in Italy

ROME, Feb. 25.—A general strike is threatened in Italy owing to the refusal of the government to grant an increase in wages to railway and other employes of the state. A meeting of the leaders of the various unions are to be held in the parliament house on Wednesday. The immediate cause of the general strike was the refusal of the government to grant an increase in wages to railway employes. Many of the railway men are receiving less than $5 a day.

German Copper Plot Discovered

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 25.—The newspaper Nieuws Rotterdamsche Courant states that another plot to smuggle 100,000 pounds of copper into Germany has been found. The copper was carried under the flooring of ships and smuggled ashore at night in motor boats. The plot was to consign it to naturalized Germans in Rotterdam, who were to forward it to Germany.

IMPLICATE GERMAN OFFICIALS

A third arrest was made today in the plot to send German agents to England with American passports, when Richard Madden was taken into custody in Hoboken, N. J., as an accomplice.

Madden's arrest followed the sensational confessions of Richard Peter Stiegler, a former Bostonian and a native of Germany, who is under arrest in New York on a charge of obtaining a passport under false pretenses, and who revealed what the federal authorities declare is a great conspiracy. Stiegler passed as Madden and his passport was secured from Madden, who is an American.

Stiegler's story involves high German officials in the United States. The facts unearthed by federal inspectors and secret service men will be submitted to President Wilson for such diplomatic action as he sees fit.

Stiegler was connected with a Boston publishing concern, and later his aim as an exporter in this city.

It was in Boston that he first met his bride, who was Miss Annette Pope, when she was attending a school here. As a result of this schoolday romance of hers, she was married to Stiegler in New York last December.

The second arrest was that of Gustav Cook, also of Hoboken, accused of being implicated in the conspiracy.

Madden was arraigned this afternoon before Federal Commissioner Houghton and held for the federal grand jury in the sum of $15,000 bail. He was committed to jail in default of bond.

After the arraignment Manning declared that he had never meant to conceive against the government. He declared that some men in Hoboken had told him that he could get a good job if he secured his birth certificate and with them procured an AMERICAN passport for use in foreign countries. He got the passport, he said, but never received anything for his effort.

To these arrests the Department of Justice at Washington believes it has established the existence of a large suspected passport fraudulent scheme. Secret have been obtained in numerous by Germans which permitted them to travel through Great Britain as aliens in the guise of American business men.

Documents found in the possession of Stiegler, who some time ago admitted his allegiance to the States by taking out first papers, bear the signature of Captain H. Boy-Ed, the naval attache of the German Embassy at Washington, and the personal representative in New York of Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador.

Stiegler tells of conferences he held with Captain Boy-Ed, fellow officers consulting with Captain [illegible] for passport supplies, who on one occasion produced Richard Madden, an American who would sell his birth certificate.

BRIDE DISSUADED HIM.

Stiegler says he was about to sell his birth certificate, but was dissuaded by his bride, a former Atlanta girl, whom he met in Boston, and, at right, Captain Boy-Ed, the German naval attache implicated in Stiegler's confession.

Richard P. Stiegler, who is held on charge of falsely obtaining United States passport and who reveals spies' plot; his bride, a former Atlanta girl, whom he met in Boston, and, at right, Captain Boy-Ed, the German naval attache implicated in Stiegler's confession.

THREE PROMINENT FIGURES IN ALLEGED U. S. PASSPORT PLOT

Captain Boy-Ed today denied Stiegler's charges, but admitted he had written letters to Stiegler.

"SPY'S" OWN STORY OF THE PLOT TO USE AMERICAN PASSPORTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—"I am well aware that I could suffer for what I say. Nevertheless, I feel it my duty to tell everything."

Thus Richard P. Stiegler, under arrest here charged with obtaining a passport under false pretenses, began his narration of the incidents which led up to his present predicament.

"I was born [illegible] province of [illegible] years ago. My father is a manufacturer in Hanover. I was educated there and in Switzerland, and came to America with all that world means.

"As a young man I served my time in the German army.

"When I left the army I entered the German mercantile marine and went forth to see the world. I had been [illegible] when I found that many was best to the world's commerce and that nations [illegible] from their old time prejudices.

"Upon my return to Germany, I went from country to country for the purpose of investigation where I might be of service to my fatherland.

"I visited Paris and other South American cities, and found that the Germans were building up a tremendous business connection. I visited Boston and New York, and while living here I became convinced that the United States was the dumping ground of all countries. I decided to become an American citizen and obtained first papers.

"In Boston I became connected with a publishing house and went to New York. I became connected with the Krafft and Bruns company of No. 27 Pine street, dealers of engineering instruments.

"I should first say a word to the German authorities that I had decided to become an American citizen and so obtain a passport that would be as a reservoir in time of war. However, I did not know that when Germany invaded Belgium last summer I was still on the lists of reserves.

"It was not long before I received orders from the consulate. It was told that everything was in readiness for me. I was ordered to the naval station at Charleston, S. C. I packed my cots, my locker and my bunker. We were all set and on board I was told just where to go and what to do.

"Given though growing American citizen, I was horrified and thought of becoming just a cog in a great machine. I wrote to the German Consulate for further instructions received his passport.

MORE SHIPS DESTROYED BY SUBMARINES IN BREAD WAR

last night, was brought here today. She is believed to have been torpedoed by a German submarine, although the crew did not see any hostile craft.

The collier was bound from Granton to Chatham, and was about five miles off Scarborough when she was suddenly torn apart by an explosion and sank rapidly. The ship's carpenter is missing. The Deptenford was a vessel of 1,208 tons, hailing from London.

HARPALION SUNK.

The British steamship Harpalion, bound from London to Newport News, Va., was sunk off Beachy Head, and there is little doubt that she was torpedoed by a German submarine. Three Chinese members of her crew were killed.

The vessel was struck amidship with terrific force and quickly disappeared. Forty-one members of the crew were landed, two of them being scalded so badly they will probably die.

The British steamer Western Coast has been sunk off Beachy Head either by a mine or a German submarine. Her crew was landed at Portsmouth today.

The Western Coast hailed from Liverpool. Members of the crew declared that there was a sudden explosion while the steamer was off Beachy Head and she began to settle at once. The boats were lowered and all the members of the crew were able to escape.

The captain of the Western Coast also said that he saw another steamship sinking at the same time his ship foundered.

NO WARNING GIVEN.

"No warning was given to us and we saw no hostile boat. Suddenly there was a mighty explosion amidships and the vessel disappeared within seven minutes. All the indications are that we were torpedoed, although we may have struck a mine. A column of water was sent sixty feet into the air by the explosion. Previous to the explosion we saw a ship of about 5,000 tons going down about a mile away. We were just about to go to her assistance when we were struck."

The steamship City of Brussels, which left Rotterdam five days ago for Belfast, Ireland, has not been heard of since and it is feared she has been struck by a mine or a submarine. She was a vessel of 1,027 tons.

A press dispatch from Rotterdam says that the Norwegian steamer Oria sighted wreckage in the English Channel which indicated that a British troopship had been sunk. Among the flotsam were uniforms, soldiers' caps and other articles of military clothing. The steamship Jervis Abbey is also reported to have sighted similar wreckage. This is further confirmation of the radiogram report from Berlin to the effect that a British troopship was sunk on February 23, near Beachey Head. The British claimed that the Germans evidently mistook the collier Branksome Chine for a troopship.

BELGIAN SHIP IN DISTRESS.

A telegram from Madrid states that a large Belgian steamer is sending out calls for assistance. She is twenty-five miles off Vares Point and no assistance is available.

No trace has yet been found of the armed merchant cruiser Clan Macnaughton, with 280 seamen on board, which has been missing for more than three weeks. She carried naval reservists.

The Germans are displaying a skill in handling submarines which is astonishing naval circles. The crews of many of the ships that have been torpedoed report seeing no hostile craft.

Extra precautions are being taken to guard the ports following the torpedoing of a vessel close to her pier at Folkestone.

It is reported today that Germany is sending a flotilla of trawlers into the North Sea to plant mines up and down the British coast. If the Germans undertake mining operations along the edge of the "war zone" the work will probably be carried on at night, owing to the vigilance of the air and sea fleets patrolling the coast waters.

There were no outward indications today that the efforts of a certain neutral power believed to be the United States to effect an agreement between Germany and the allies by which the submarine warfare would end would be successful.

WASHINGTON LOOKS TO ENGLAND TO END CRISIS ON FOOD SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The solution of the war zone problem rests with Great Britain.

The next movement in the critical situation depends upon the attitude of the London government. This is the view of administration officials in touch with the international questions arising out of the war.

The confidential proposals of the United States to end the war zone have been submitted to England and Germany, and Washington authorities today wrapped their cloaks of silence around them more closely than ever to await the replies.

Intimations have come from Berlin that the Kaiser's advisers are inclined to accept the American suggestions, it is understood.

No hint has been obtained as to England's attitude. Official Washington therefore waited with much anxiety the outcome of the present negotiations. All circles in Washington officialdom are fully alive to the seriousness of the situation and realize that the path of the United States in the matter of neutrality is rough and uncertain.

High officials are giving all their attention to the subject. No effort is being made to conceal the belief in high quarters that should any American lives be lost as the result of the activities, either of Germany or Great Britain, this government may be forced to change its present neutral attitude.

MAY SUSPEND INSURANCE.

Meanwhile the sinking of the Evelyn and the Cavis has caused the war risk insurance bureau to take up the question of suspending further insurance on ships sailing to North European ports. This has been urged as a means of discouraging shipping to take the risks in the war zone.

There also was heard a suggestion in some quarters that the United States put an embargo on food exports should her war zone proposals be rejected, but this was not confirmed in any way.

Great Britain has submitted the American proposal to France and Russia, it is rumored. Diplomats here are today divided in their opinions as to whether or not either the allies or Germany would agree to abolish maritime war zones.

Diplomats also doubt if England will allow supplies to be sent to the civilian population in Germany after her characterization of the Teutonic empire as "an armed camp."

It is the opinion in Washington that efforts on the part of the United States to bring about through diplomatic interchanges any real modification of Great Britain's determination to starve Germany into submission as a part of her military campaign are foredoomed to failure.

It is thought the reason for the extraordinary secrecy which has surrounded the latest negotiations with Germany and Great Britain is that the administration saw small prospects of success from the start and is making representations to the two leaders of the combatant nations as a final resort before returning to the neutral position assumed by the United States in the first note of protest to Germany.

Great Britain's objection to the German expropriation decree, whereby all the cereal food supplies of the German empire are diverted to the control of the government, is not based upon a suspicion that such a decree will not be fairly administered in the event of its direction being taken over by the diplomatic and consular officials of the United States, but upon the basis that further importations of food, even if consumed solely by the civil population of Germany, removes a pressure from the domestic food supply and thereby leaves a vast additional quantity for the use of the army.

The most recent representations to Germany are framed to impress that nation with the entire sincerity of the United States in her efforts to relieve shipping and neutral cargoes from the menace of Germany mines and submarines. It is felt to be Germany's due that the United States should leave no effort untried to prevent the possible spread of the war and the inclination of more nations than now comprise the fighting line. The United States has been officially made acquainted with the state of the public mind in the Netherlands, for example, where it is reported that it is only by dint of the most strenuous efforts to preserve outward semblance of a neutral position that the government is able to restrain an outbreak.

WINTER STREET TEMPLE PLACE TREMONT STREET

SECRET BRITISH REVERSES AT SUEZ CANAL REVEALED

ROME, Feb. 7, via mail to New York, Feb. 25.—Notwithstanding the rigorous censorship on all press messages and private letters, and the reassuring statements issued by the English authorities about the situation in Egypt, Italians who have just arrived here from Cairo state that all has not gone as England wished along the Sinai peninsula.

The colonial troops defending the Suez Canal have, upon more than one occasion, met with crushing reverses at the hands of the Turks. The situation along the canal, if not critical, is at least precarious.

Returning Italians say that Cairo, which up to a month ago sported an air full of confidence in the ability of the colonial troops to prevent the invasion, now live in constant fear of some dire calamity. The Christian and European elements of the population are under the impression that their lives and property are no longer safe.

FAMOUS RESORT DESERTED.

As to the season, Cairo never before presented such a dismal and melancholy aspect. Probably for the first time since the city became famous as a Winter resort and gathering place for cosmopolitans, the hotels are practically empty of tourists. But what is more ominous is the sullen, hostile attitude assumed by the native population since the proclamation of a holy war by Turkey.

According to reports of reliable newspaper correspondents the enthusiasm of the native element for the newly enthroned Sultan of Egypt, Prince Hussein, was greatly exaggerated. Although the deposed Sultan was never extremely popular, yet the native Egyptians respected him and sympathized with him in his efforts to resist the bureaucratic invasion of the country by the British. The new Sultan is regarded as a tool of the British government. Prince Hussein's acceptance of the Egyptian throne under a British protectorate is looked upon as an act of overt rebellion against the Caliph and the Prophet's legitimate representative on earth.

NATIVES SHUN EUROPEANS.

From the point of view of the relations between the natives and the European population (the Mohammedans and Christians), Cairo has undergone another complete change, and American tourists would be surprised at the complete absence of natives from the streets in the European quarter.

Since the decree was handed down in Constantinople proclaiming the nations of the Triple Entente as enemies of Islam, the Mohammedans no longer approach the English on former terms, but live secluded in the native district, spending most of their time in the temples.

Now and then a Christian gendarme is found mysteriously slain, and it is invariably found that the victim's heart has been split with a short, double-edged dagger such as the Mohammedans carry. Nothing is ever said of these mysterious murders. The newspapers are not allowed to mention them.

Still deeper is the mystery which surrounds the movements of the colonial troops. Whether or not England will one day tell the complete and full story of operations between the canal and the Turkish frontier is doubtful, but there is ample ground for belief that there have been fierce engagements in which the British lost heavily.

DISASTER TO BRITISH TROOPS.

Signor Guido Cavaglieri, ordered to send a story through to the Corriere de la Sera, but the British censor refused to let it pass. The story was taken to Syracuse and carried across to Milan by a friend of the correspondent.

This account contained information secured from an Italian army officer, who is in the pay of the English.

According to this information, on January 17 an Anglo-Indian column, 3,000 strong, supported with six mountain pieces, advanced as far as El-Dejdar, where the Turkish outposts were supposed to be. Near that point the column met a large group of Bedouins who on being attacked retreated. The English officers ordered the Bedouins pursued. Suddenly large Turkish forces emerged from behind the dunes. The colonials fought bravely, but the numbers of Bedouins increased until the whole British column was surrounded.

Several brilliant charges were delivered and finally they succeeded in opening a way for a retreat, but it lost all its artillery and nearly 1,000 men struggled back into El Kubri.

HEAVY INDIAN LOSSES.

Three days later another British column, 6,000 strong, left Ismailia for Kubri, a distance of ten miles. It also was attacked among the dunes and narrowly escaped annihilation the other column. About 200 British were killed and 1,000 wounded. The remainder would have never heard of these engagements.

Later, when a train bearing 500 wounded reached Alexandria it was announced that they were contusioned soldiers sent to Egypt to recuperate.

England cannot trust her Indian troops. Among the prisoners taken to Cairo after one engagement were a number of Indian officers, arrested because, but it was exhibited in an official statement that they had been captured by the Turks, while returning from a visit to a holy place, and compelled to fight against the English allies.

According to information received by the Italian government, 40,000 Bedouins are being concentrated on the Soudan border of Egypt.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results. —Advertisement.

ANSWERS TO BEAUTY QUESTIONS

By CLAIRE AINSWORTH,
The Notedly Beautiful Singer.

Mrs. Le G.: "My skin is dry, leather-looking, lifeless astringent, which you can obtain in bottles with complete directions.

Miss Amelia says: "I am losing my hair by the combful, and my scalp is covered with scurf, while it itches terribly. What will stop my troubles?"

Answer: The use of plain yellow mineral will check and cure dandruff and itching scalp, stop falling hair and promote a healthy, luxuriant growth to the locks. Apply once or twice a week as per the directions on 4-oz. jar. This preparation is made for use only by high-class professional hair dressers, but you can use it at home easily.

Answer to "Maria H. G.": If you hair will not stay in curl and is straggling over the face and neck, I would advise the regular use of waveine. It is harmless, invisible, and keeps the hair in wave for days at a time, often causing a natural fluffy growth to appear.

Note: If the reader does not find the information wanted in the questions answered above, just address a letter to Miss Claire Ainsworth, 40 Patterson Bldg., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope, and she will gladly advise on health and beauty problems. The articles and preparations mentioned are on sale by all wholesale druggists, large retail and department stores, or any accommodating dealer can obtain them for you. GERMANS STORM PRZASNSYZ, POLAND

Berlin Reports Capture of 15,000 Russian Prisoners in Poland Fighting.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Another important success in the eastern campaign following up the rout of the Russians in East Poland, is announced by the German War Office today. In the storming of the fortified city of Przasnysz, fifty-eight miles south of Warsaw, on Polish soil, resulting in the capture of 15,000 Russian prisoners, twenty cannon, machine guns and a large quantity of war material.

A frontal battle has been in progress in the vicinity of Przasnysz for several days.

The capture of 2000 Russians in battles north of the Vistula is also reported by Berlin. The German encampment states that fighting continues along the Niemen, the Bobr and the Narew rivers.

The formation of additional army corps is announced by the German War Office, and Narew itself, the fortress city of Przasnysz, which has been turned into a fortress of immense strength by the Russians, was stormed by the East Prussian reserves after a terrific struggle in which more than 10,000 Russians were made prisoners. In addition to this more than twenty big guns and a number of machine guns as well as an immense quantity of war stores.

In other engagements north of the Vistula River during the past few days, we made more than 2000 prisoners. In Poland, south of the Vistula, the Russians have begun to the southeast of Bolimow, with enormous forces (five times the strength of our own) and considerable artillery. The fighting there is nothing of importance to report regarding operations in the eastern theater.

SENDING TROOPS WEST.

The following note was appended to the German statement:

"It is a characteristic incident that the commander of the fifth seventh Bavarian Reserve, who was taken prisoner at Augustowo Forest, asked German officers whether or not it was true that Antwerp is still besieged by German soldiers and would soon fall. When the real situation in the western theatre of war was explained to him the Russian officer refused to believe that the Germans were no French soil.

"German troops released by the German victory over the Russians in East Prussia are pouring back into Belgium to strengthen the German line in the western theater of war. It is reported from Amsterdam that many troop trains have passed through Belgium toward Liege and Brussels during the night for the Western theater."

RUSSIANS TAKE TRENCHES.

Official news of the breaking of the German lines in the Augustowo forest by two regiments of the Russian Caucasian division, the Russian artillery and the capture of three lines of trenches by the Russians on height No. 891 by the regulations was given out today from the Russian War Office in Petrograd.

The battle along the right bank of the Narew River between the armies of Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Grand Duke Nicholas is extending. Furious attacks are being delivered continuously by the Germans in a front extending from the line of Jednorhoz on the Bobr River to a point near Rozan on the Narew in Poland.

"The Russian report follows:

"Actions resumed on Tuesday north of Grodek, Ilow and Rozan, and in the Augustowo forest, with regularity of the Twenty-fifth Russian Army Corps, both surrounded by the Germans during the retreat from East Prussia, broke through the enemy's line and rejoined our troops. Enemy patrols are trying to cross to the right bank of the Niemen.

"The battle on the right bank of the river Narew is continuing. The Germans are delivering continuous attacks along a front from the Bobr River as far as Rozan, in the Lomza region of Bolgasno, in the Ostrolenka region the fighting assuming an intensity severe.

SUCCESSES IN CARPATHIANS.

"On the left bank of the Nistoin we recalled our troops from the army to village of Bogdan, west of Opochno and Lopushno.

"In the Carpathians desperate fighting has occurred east of Lupkow in the region of Mushieni and Zavadka, a series of earthworks near Zavadka at daybreak on the twenty-second we captured three lines of trenches and caught No. 891 which is almost a sheer precipice. The Germans, abandoning the trenches, were killed or captured.

"The German attacks south of Kosiouka were repulsed. South of Dukla there was a stubborn fight we captured a height one night but lost it the following. On the Dukla road we attacked and occupied several villages which had been commenced in important forces of the enemy.

FIGHTING IN CAUCASUS.

The Turkish War Office reports a renewal of hostilities on the trans-Caucasian frontier. An announcement from Constantinople says:

"The Turkish army of the Caucasus, after a successful attack, is now on the attack in the region east of Artwin with great success. The Russians have been driven from the line of Olti Mah. A heavy quantity of war material was captured."

British Victory in Southwest Africa

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Feb. 25.—It is officially announced that on the night of February 25 the British northern force would for the purpose of attacking Nonidas Schutze in German Southwest Africa. The attack was successful and by daybreak the daybreak simultaneously on two positions occupied by the Germans. Both were occupied after severe fighting on a small scale. No casualties occurred among the British forces of the enemy were captured.

Build Submarine at Portsmouth Yard

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 25.—The keel of the first submarine boat to be built at the Portsmouth navy yard was laid today. The vessel is the 40th boat in the Portsmouth Navy Yard. The first was the Holland. Lieut. Commander Thomas Snowden, commandant of the yard, and Naval Constructor Lawrence N. Adams in charge of the industrial department of the yard, presided at the ceremony. The keel was made of steel plates and nickel plated hammers.

Fighting the World, Says Bavarian King

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 25.—Swearing with new energies for his army, says a dispatch from Munich, King Ludwig of Bavaria has told his people they are fighting against the world. Our enemies are impoverished by their own greed. The people are fighting for their very existence. Our people will emerge victoriously.

Report German Ship Gotha British Prize

MONTEVIDEO, Feb. 25.—The German steamer Gotha, bunker coal provisions for German warships, under convoy of the cruiser Kent, has been captured by a British cruiser and taken to the Falkland Islands.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and small added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Besides it's a splendid tonic, stops scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While applying this faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger. —Advertisement.

VON BUELOW GETS ORDER OF MERIT FROM THE KAISER

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—After the terrific battles in the Masurian lakes district, the Kaiser sent to General Von Buelow the following telegram:

After forced marches covering more than nine days, over snow-covered, frozen roads, your brave troops shoulder to shoulder with their comrades operating in the north, succeeded by continued fighting in breaking the tenacious resistance of the enemy, clearing your own country, German and surrounding soil, and crushingly defeating him.

Therewith, under your appointed guidance, we gained a success as great as which could not have been expected to be more brilliant.

I express to your exemplary and true troops under your command my royal and imperial gratitude and confer upon you the order of Merit.

GETTING READY FOR THAW BATTLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Lines of conflict over Harry K. Thaw hardened today in anticipation of his trial for conspiracy to escape from Matteawan.

His counsel hold two recourses in reserve. One of these, to be followed in the event of his conviction, it is understood, will be a contention that conviction and sentence for such an act necessarily imports that his commitment to Matteawan as insane could not be longer operative and freedom at the end of his term of imprisonment would follow as a matter of course.

The other recourse, and the one that the State expects the Thaw lawyers to turn to is an examination into his sanity under a writ of Habeas corpus.

This action was foreshadowed in the proceedings before Justice Davis on January 25. Then John B. Stanchfield asked for Thaw's commitment to Bellevue for observation under the section of the criminal code requiring that course when prisoners "shall appear to be insane."

This motion was opposed successfully by W. T. Jerome, then special County Attorney-recently in charge of the Thaw case. He argued, and Justice Davis agreed with him, that there was no "appearance of insanity about the case, but a judicial declaration, under the terms of the commitment to Matteawan signed by Justice Dowling on February 1, 1908. This argument had the approval of the Attorney-General, and it was said on authority yesterday that it will be adhered to when the case comes up for trial next month.

In the event of Thaw's acquittal Justice Dowling's commitment will become operative at once. In the event of his conviction sentence may be suspended, in which case the commitment will rule.

PROBE MYSTERY OF WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN STREET

District Attorney William J. Corcoran of Middlesex County today instructed State Police Inspector Silas F. Swift to investigate the mystery of the death of Mrs. Mary Powers, widow of Benjamin Powers, found on Belmont street, Belmont, shortly after midnight. The police believed the woman may have been struck by an automobile while made off in the darkness or without taking any steps to identify herself.

Chief John F. Ryan of the Belmont police and his force worked all night without discovering anything which would throw light on how the woman met her death. Several theories were advanced, but the police announced the automobile as the most probable one.

Mrs. Powers, who was sixty-five and the mother of several children, lived at No. 51 Sharp street, Cambridge. Her body was found near the curbing. Her clothes, legs and head were fractured and there were multiple cuts and bruises about the head and body.

Her clothing was torn and covered with mud. This and the condition of her body led to the belief that she had been dragged or hurled some distance.

Mrs. Powers had been visiting her niece, Mrs. John Moore, on Falmouth street, Belmont. She left the house about 10:30 last night, intending to board a trolley car to Cambridge at the corner of Falmouth and Belmont streets.

Early today the policemen of Boston and Waverly car sped a body to the gutter some distance from the car tracks. He telephoned the police who at once began an inquiry.

Word was sent to the police in the identification of the body. When District Attorney Corcoran heard of the case today he at once sent State Inspector Swift to Belmont to make an investigation, with the assistance of the Belmont police.

One suggestion made was that Mrs. Powers might have been struck by a wagon, the driver of which might have been asleep. However, the police were of the opinion that such a woman would have made an outcry when first struck and that this would have awakened the driver. They thought it more probable that she had been hit by an auto.

Not all auto travelling at a high rate of speed struck the woman, it would have hurled her some distance, the police reasoned, and would have thrown her against the curbing with enough force to result in numerous injuries to the body.

Hamilton Wants All Churches Insured

Bishop John W. Hamilton of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Boston calls upon all ministers and lay men who have charge of churches in Greater Boston to see that they are well insured against fire. "There is nothing that will quench the vitality of fire I had almost said prevent the burning—like a policy marked 'Paid' for six months in the unincorporated will pass," declares the Bishop.

SAYS MRS. CABOT HID FROM HIM

[illegible] Mrs. Cabot got up and went into the library. That time I heard him screaming.

Q—Was anyone at the table with you at that time? A—Yes, sir—Mrs. Cabot.

Q—Did you ever have any medicine at the table? A—Yes, sir. I always placed some or four bottles of it in front of him.

Q—Did you ever speak to Mr. Cabot about it? A—No, sir.

FOND OF HIS DAUGHTERS.

Miss Murphy testified to seeing both Mrs. Brigge and Mrs. Bartel at the latter home.

Q—Did Mr. Cabot seem fond of his daughters? A—Yes, sir. I saw him kiss both of them.

Q—Did you ever remember hearing Mr. Cabot threaten anyone? A—Yes, sir.

Q—Did you ever see him whenever he was making these notes? A—No, sir. I heard the pencil coming from his room.

Q—Did you ever notice anything in Mr. Cabot's conduct at the table when the food didn't agree with him? A—Yes, sir.

Q—What? A—It was his pull a fish to pieces and say: "I don't want this! I don't want it." If the eggs weren't enough to spoil, though he would sometimes tear on the table. He would also talk about the cook and say she didn't know how.

Q—That was before you were the chief cook? A—I suppose he said the same things about me.

Q—Anyone ever told to keep out of Mr. Cabot's way? A—Yes, sir.

Q—And did you do so? A—Yes, sir.

Witness often heard Mr. Cabot tell Mrs. Cabot that he wouldn't go driving or play golf, although she often heard Mrs. Cabot telling her husband that the exercise would be good for him.

When the will case was resumed before Judge Hardy and the jurors this morning, Miss Parkinson, the nineteen years superintendent of the Cabot Homestead estate, was recalled to the witness stand for Attorney Sherman L. Whipple, counsel for Mrs. J. Vernon Brigge, contestant.

LETTERS WERE DESTROYED.

Parkinson was asked if he had found several letters bearing on the case which he had promised to try and produce today. He replied that the letters had been destroyed by his late lamented.

By Attorney Charles F. Choate, counsel for the will, Q—Were those letters destroyed after you knew there was to be a contest over the will? A—I don't think so.

Backhouse was followed on the stand by Miss Hannah B. Mahoney, who was also recalled by Attorney Whipple. She testified that she did the cleaning in the home of Mr. Cabot, at Dublin, North East Harbor and Aiken.

When questioned Mrs. Brigge and Mrs. Bartel, her sister, had exchanged their usual greeting, "Hello, Fanny," "Hello, Mrs. Bartel was still busily knitting. There was the usual crowd present, despite the inclement weather.

Attorney Whipple had several witnesses on hand, but he announced that they were George Cabot, Dr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Brigge and Esther Murphy.

GRAND JURY TO REPORT ON HORN

The Federal Grand Jury is scheduled to report next Tuesday any finding it may have reached in its investigation, at a one-day recall session, of the case of Werner Horn, who tried to blow up the international railroad bridge over the St. Croix River at Vanceboro, Me.

George W. Anderson, new United States District Attorney for this district, who handled the grand jury investigation personally, presented witnesses to the jurymen. The witnesses were mainly from Vanceboro. From Canadian border points and other points and other places along the bridge episode.

It has been understood that the grand jurymen are considering whether Horn, who claims that he was an officer of the German army, bend to a war measure against Canada, violated any federal laws regarding the transportation of dynamite. It is said, also, that the jury may possibly consider whether Horn violated the laws of this country have been related for any person or persons who may have assisted Horn.

Sure Spring Sign: Finds Grasshopper Colony on His Lawn

WASHINGTON, Mass., Feb. 25.—Ernest Schulze, while going to his mail box beside the highway, found that a colony of grasshoppers had come out and were hopping about the lawn. Mr. Schulze caught a dozen and brought them to the postoffice, where they were exhibited.

Appeal for Social Welfare Committee

Chairman Charles B. Lubin of the commission on immigration of California appeared before the Committee on Social Welfare at the State House today in support of a petition for the creation of a similar commission in this state. Bernard J. Rothwell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Joseph Mayper, for the committee for Immigrants in America, supported the petition.

APPROVES BUYING JEFFERSON HOME

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Wilson today sent a letter to Representative Underwood and Senator Kern indorsing the purchase by the Federal government of Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson. The letter read:

"I am told that there is a resolution now pending before both Houses of Congress for the purchase of Monticello, the home of Mr. Jefferson, and that back of it lies a very strong sentiment in both houses. Certainly my own interest in it is very deep and very sincere. I most earnestly hope that there will be some interval in the business of the House and Senate which can be used for the passage of this most interesting piece of legislation, which I think will meet the approval of the whole nation."

Tie-Up of School Pay Beat Harrison

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Antoinette Funk, chairman of the Suffrage Congressional Committee, which helped put Illinois in the suffrage column, told why Carter Harrison was defeated for renomination as Mayor of Chicago.

She said the women voted against him because he held up the pay of Chicago school teachers several years ago.

Adverse Report on Public Hearing Bills

The two bills seeking to require the Governor and Executive Council to give public hearings to State officials removed from office, were reported adversely today by the Committee on Public Service. Representative Henry F. Long of Topsfield, a Republican leader, dissents from the report.

Police Hunt for 2 Winthrop Boys

The Winthrop police today were asked to hunt for two small boys who, after leaving the E. B. Newton school which they attend, yesterday afternoon disappeared. The boys are Chandler Eldredge, twelve, of No. 11 Orlando avenue, and Henry Kalish, thirteen, of No. 185 Circuit road. The parents say they know no reason why the boys should have run away.

La Grippe and Colds

In La Grippe and Colds, Anti-kamnia (A. K.) Tablets are unexcelled, as they stop the pains, soothe the nerves, and bring the rest so greatly needed by nature to restore the system to health. Physicians have used these tablets for over 20 years, in the treatment of colds, fevers and la grippe, and have found no other remedy more useful in these conditions. A-K Tablets are so inexpensive, so pleasant to take, so satisfactory in their results, and so useful in all conditions where there is pain, that A-K Tablets should always be kept in the house for the time of need. Many of our ablest physicians obtain perfect results in la grippe and colds, by cleansing the system with Epsom salts or "Ac-Co-Lax," a very good cathartic, putting the patient on a limited diet, and administering one A-K Tablet every two or three hours. This treatment will usually break up the worst case in a day or two, while in milder cases, ease and comfort follow almost immediately. These tablets are also unexcelled for Neuralgia, Rheumatic Pains, The Pains of Women, Indigestion and Insomnia. All druggists have them.

Genuine A-K Tablets bear the ℞ mark.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE adds wonderfully to the flavor—but use it because it increases the nutritive elements of fish

Lea & Perrins SAUCE

COD FISH BALLS.—Wash well and boil, pick in small pieces and measure 1 cup. Wash, pare and soak some potatoes, cut in small pieces and measure 2 heaping cups. Cook fish and potatoes in boiling water to cover until potatoes are tender, drain, return to pan, mash thoroughly, add ¼ tablespoon butter, 2 teaspoons LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE, 1 well beaten egg, pepper to taste and salt if necessary. Form into balls, dip in butter, egg, roll in fine bread crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. Drain and serve plain or with tomato sauce.

OPEN LAST FIGHT FOR FRANK'S LIFE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Final arguments in the battle to save the life of Leo M. Frank of Atlanta, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, were begun in the United States Supreme Court today.

Whether Frank could escape the sentence of death pronounced by the Superior Court of Fulton County, Georgia, because he was not present when the jury which found him guilty returned its verdict, was the final question at issue.

The arguments were addressed to an appeal from the decision of the federal court of Georgia denying Frank's petition for a writ of habeas corpus. The Supreme Court was asked by Frank's lawyers to grant the writ and reverse the decision of the lower courts. They did not set up the claim that Frank could not be retried on the indictment for murder.

Louis Marshall of New York, an expert on constitutional questions, opened the case for Frank. He based his argument on these points:

That Frank's absence from the courtroom when the death verdict was brought in without his consent and also in the absence of his counsel constituted a denial of the due process guarantee of the federal constitution and nullified the judgment of the court.

That threatened mob violence in Atlanta while the trial was in progress interfered with the due course of justice.

That Frank's failure to raise jurisdictional questions at the time the verdict was returned did not prevent him from demanding his rights under the federal constitution.

That a habeas corpus proceeding was the proper course to determine the legality of his present detention in a Georgia jail.

For the State of Georgia which opposed Frank's appeal the lawyers were Attorney-General Warren Grice and Solicitor-General Hugh M. Dorsey. Their argument was not expected to be concluded until tomorrow.

FITCHBURG STIRRED BY DEMAND FOR SECOND HOSPITAL INQUIRY

FITCHBURG, Feb. 25.—Another investigation of Burbank Hospital is threatened. Since the sensational investigation in 1910, resulting in the abolition of the matron system, a woman has been engaged as superintendent and this is indirectly behind the present agitation.

George D. Harper, whose father, George Harper, died last week at a private hospital after having been refused admittance to Burbank Hospital, is demanding an investigation. He failed to get action, and C. H. Gay, president of the Common Council, is moving to get Burbank staff at the hospital, who declared the man to be suffering from delirium tremens.

This ending was resented by Harper and his friends. There, other physicians declare Harper was not suffering from alcoholism. On Dr. Gay's diagnosis, the hospital superintendent refused to admit Harper to the hospital unless he got a city institution. Medical Examiner Thomas was found dead due to injuries sustained in a fall.

SON IS ANGERED

Declaring the inference that his father was suffering from alcoholism is an insult to the family and that he believes an investigation will result in "better treatment hereafter of respectable citizens who may be unfortunate enough to get hurt," George D. Harper, son of the dead man, asserted today that he will push the case. He has retained Attorneys Walsh & Walsh, who were counsel for Miss Margaret Shannon, a former nurse at the hospital, whose suit previous resulted in the 1909 investigation. Young Harper is grieved, incensed at the manner in which his father was treated by the authorities of the institution, and he will be for a demand satisfaction. He states that he has no interest in the case other than to have conditions improved for the public welfare.

When Harper case was first made public, it was considered largely as the complaint of a disturber, inasmuch as the extreme was set forth that Harper was suffering from delirium tremens, cases of which are not supposed to be treated at police headquarters, although there are now two such patients at the hospital, where the authorities claim the delirium tremens developed.

Dr. H. H. Cornforth, city physician; Dr. Dwight S. Woodsworth, chairman of the Park Commission, and Dr. John Stinson, well-known surgeon, examined Harper before and after the diagnosis made by Dr. Gay, and declare that Harper was not suffering from alcoholism in any form, that a swollen wrist indicated a fracture, and that at the time Miss Josephine Thornley, the hospital superintendent, declined to allow him to be brought to the hospital he was in every sense a hospital case.

DOCTORS DISAGREE.

When these three physicians learned of the facts concerning the refusal of the hospital authorities to admit Harper it is said they were astounded and that they have complained to Mayor Benjamin A. Cook, chairman of the board of hospital trustees.

Then Dr. Frederick H. Thompson, Sr., medical examiner, a member of the board of trustees, and one of the "1909 hospital defenders," attributed the cause of death in a signed death certificate, as being due to a fall downstairs, causing fracture of the head and a fracture of the left wrist. He decided chronic alcoholism was a contributory cause, but later qualified this by stating it was "probable contributory cause."

"The case was clearly one of delirium tremens," declared Dr. Gay, to an AMERICAN reporter, "and the hospital superintendent was therefore justified in refusing the patient admission."

The matron system of supervision at the hospital, which was abolished for its defects, was ushered in by the previous investigation, but while in the past few years Dr. Freeman A. Tower, former superintendent, resigned, because of friction and inability to get co-operation between the administration staff and the trustees, he was succeeded by Miss Thurlow as superintendent, virtually a return to the system which prevailed prior to the investigation.

ATTACK ON SYSTEM.

Harper and his friends are making a drive, as they claim it is indirectly the result of the failure of the system as with a male superintendent at the hospital the patient would doubtless have been admitted.

Leading citizens declare that when application is made for admission of a patient to this hospital, to which the taxpayers contribute $15,000 a year, one of the first questions generally asked is: "Who is going to pay?" They are considering plans for seeking an injunction to restrain the city treasury from paying any bills the city's money to the hospital officials until such time as it will have been established that it is a "city hospital," and not a private one, ed by the mayor, Gardner Burbank, the trustees and the superintendent.

Complaint is made, too, that shortly after their discharge from the supposedly free hospital, patients have been chased by a Fitchburg lawyer, prominent as a politician, and in some cases it is charged that advertisement patients have suffered financially by the methods employed to try to collect from them for treatment at the institution.

The next move is expected to be filing of charges by Harper's counsel with the trustees of the hospital against Dr. Gay in the hope that the whole question will be opened up. Attorneys Walsh & Walsh declare today that they have as yet not decided what, if anything, will be done in the interest of the Harper family, but it is known the lawyers have already started to secure evidence.

STILL TIME FOR GIVING BUNDLE

Bundle Day auto laden with gifts gathered for the needy.

The garments donated will be distributed through organized mediums of relief to worthy men, women and children. The executive committee, consisting of the Rev. Paul Harris Drake, pastor of the Harvard Memorial Church, chairman; Mrs. Fred K. J. Dowling of the Brighthelmstone Club, secretary; Mrs. Frank W. Lucas, Women's City Club; David A. Lourie, Home for Jewish Children; Martin T. Joyce, Massachusetts State Branch, and Somerville avenues.

SOUTH BOSTON—Frank McCliough, No. 131 Dorchester street.

JAMAICA PLAIN—E. Googins, No. 95 Boylston street.

MALDEN—J. W. Mayes, Malden square; Frost & Co, Irving street; Malden Newspaper Delivery Company, Malden.

EVERETT—Everett Newspaper Delivery Company, Everett; George Nichols, Broadway.

that hour SIX HUNDRED PEOPLE telephoned or otherwise gave notice that their bundles were ready, and yesterday morning there was a flood of postal cards, with over five hundred telephone messages during the day.

The committee had expected a splendid response, and forty trains, six express companies and eight auto trucks were ready to help collect the bundles.

White trucks volunteered by the White Auto Company, and Garford trucks given by Manager McCaffery of the E. E. Taylor Corporation assisted the wagons and autos privately offered in the work of collection.

Everybody seemed to find dozens of things about the house that were of no further use to them but that might benefit others.

As a result of the tremendous flood of offerings that made Bundle Day the greatest occasion of its kind that Boston ever saw, the committee decided to prolong the collection till Sunday. So today will be another Bundle Day, and likewise tomorrow and Saturday.

If you telephone Oxford 6580 or 6581 or Roxbury 700 or 1010, or if you send a postal to the Boston AMERICAN, or to Bundle Day Headquarters at No. 11 Wareham street, or to the Elliot Square Storage Company, No. 248 Roxbury street, your bundle will be collected before dark today.

There will be no distribution of bundles until all are in and all are sorted. And in this connection, the committee appeals for volunteers to help sort these bundles and arrange them for delivery. It is going to be a tremendous task, and lots of help will be needed.

The bundles will be distributed later; and an announcement as to this will appear in the AMERICAN. Persons who have the red cards given out by the various organizations should watch the AMERICAN for an announcement of the distribution of bundles. The announcement will tell them when and where to call to secure the clothing that is to be given them.

American Federation of Labor: Mrs. Stephen H. Roblin, Second Society of Universalists, and Mrs. Allen Bland, Junior Charity Club, vouch for their judicious distribution.

The list of Bundle Day collection agencies is as follows:

WALSH WARNS OF NEW CATTLE PERIL

Governor Walsh, owing to the new outbreak of the foot and mouth disease, has issued a proclamation to cattle owners that a State-wide quarantine is possible, unless the regulations of the Bureau of Animal Industry are observed.

Edward E. Chapman, who is a Representative in the Legislature as well as master of the State Grange, also issued a statement in which he charged the new outbreak to the laxity in the State Bureau of Animal Industry caused by the removal of Fred E. Walker by the Governor and Council.

In the Senate, Senator Baxeley, speaking on the recent veto by the Governor of an appropriation bill to reimburse the farmers for their losses by reason of the disease, declared that if the Governor had only taken time to consult the members of the Senate Ways and Means Committee that he would never have vetoed the bill.

Governor Walsh followed by sending a special message to the Legislature asking for immediate action on his veto and submitting a new $150,000 resolve providing for the dam-Company, by turning over the decrease payments in question, which he said the Attorney-General had drafted.

Sees Stolen Hat; Girl's Story Holds 2

"That's my hat," cried Mabel Bedard, twenty, of Terrace street, Roxbury, as she was complaining to Patrolman McGarry in Roxbury Crossing that someone had broken into her home. As the result of the story of the girl wearing the hat, Thomas Lacey, plasterer, and James King, twenty-seven, both of Roxbury, were arrested, charged with breaking and entering.

Couple's Wedding Trip on Schooner

DEER ISLE, Me., Feb. 25.—Captain George W. Torrey of the schooner Magnus Manson and Miss Elsie Gray have been married by Rev. O. J. Guptill of the Congregational Church. The groom is commander of the five-masted schooner Magnus Manson, in which the couple sail Saturday on their honeymoon trip to Argentine Republic.

SEE PORK BILL'S DOOM IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Democratic leaders of the Senate believe there is little hope for any legislation except the big supply measures before adjournment of Congress, March 4, and that there is no prospect of passing the Rivers and Harbors Bill in its present form.

For the rivers and harbors bill, it is now generally expected, there will be substituted approximately $50,000,000 to continue existing projects under direction of the War Department.

"TIZ"—A JOY TO SORE, TIRED FEET

"TIZ" for aching, burning puffed-up feet and corns or callouses.

Good-bye sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "TIZ" is magical, acts right off. "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "TIZ" and wear smaller shoes. Use "TIZ" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now at any druggist or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet. Let your feet feel that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded. For sale by Pikerlaynes and all good druggists.

Sharp Says Puritans Favored Dancing

"The Puritans did not object to dancing, but rather apologised for it because it was helpful exercise," said Cecil Sharp, one of England's leading authorities on folk lore dancing, in his talk on "The Folk Song and the Folk Dance," at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Graeme Haughton, No. 238 Beacon street.

Hold Boston Man on 'Fake' Check Charge

WIFE AWAKENS TO FIND MAN SLAIN

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 25.—Police examination after daylight today of the home of George Rustigian, a wealthy Armenian, who was found murdered in his bed at No. 332 Benefit street shortly after midnight, only served to increase the mystery of what the officers describe as the most brutal and inexplicable crime in Providence history.

Not only was Rustigian stabbed and cut over the heart twelve separate times, as he lay on his bed, next to the bed occupied by his wife, but he was struck on the forehead as though with some blunt instrument, and there were three cuts on his right arm and smaller cuts on his right hand.

Rustigian's body, as it awaited the medical examiner, looked as though someone had tried to carve the man's heart out.

The whole room was blood spattered, even to the ceiling. Mrs. Rustigian was slightly spattered with her husband's blood.

In the adjoining room three children were asleep. Downstairs, John E. Lawlor was awake. Lawlor thinks he did hear a slight sound, but no more alarming than that of one of the Rustigians, on the floor above, had got up and moved a chair. How Rustigian could have been hacked to pieces without the slightest alarming sound being heard, is a mystery to the police and Medical Examiner Clifford Griffin.

Mrs. Rustigian awoke shortly after midnight. She listened, but did not hear anything. She spoke to her husband. Whom he did not answer she lighted a light.

FINDS HUSBAND DEAD.

Her screams, "He's dead!" brought Lawlor to from downstairs. He telephoned to the police. Not a trace to the mysterious assailant could be found, except an open door in the rear of the house.

Mrs. Rustigian could give the police no help. She knew of no enemy of her husband. The police gave her story full credence.

She told the police she and her husband had retired at ten minutes to eleven. It was after midnight that she awoke. Rustigian is about forty-seven years, his wife thirty-two. They lived in Providence for many years. The house in which the murder occurred, is in Benefit street, nearly opposite Arnold, No. 272. The district is thickly settled.

On the same floor with the Rustigians lived Mrs. Rustigian's brother, Victor Boyagian, eighteen, who worked for his brother-in-law.

DREAMED OF BATTLE.

Boyagian told the police he locked the back door at about 10:45 o'clock. Just before going to bed. He could remember hearing no noise. The police believe it would have taken a man of considerable strength to have committed the crime.

Lawlor, who lives in the flat downstairs, was sitting in the back of the house, reading. He said he usually hears anyone going the back entrance to the Rustigians' apartment, but that he heard no one entering there or leaving. Lawlor is a druggist at Block Island.

Mrs. Rustigian told Lawlor, when he went upstairs at her summons, she had dreamed there were two or three men in the room attacking her husband. When she was finally awakened she believed it was the dream which woke her.

The police found traces of dirt about the bedroom, but from muddy shoes, although there are no defined footmarks.

Kennebec Ice Crop Falls Very Low

AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 25.—The mild weather and the recent rains have worked disastrously for the Kennebec ice crop, which will be an almost complete failure. All that can save the crop is a period of severe cold, and then, it is estimated, not more than half a crop will be harvested.

Two Reports on New Prison for Maine

AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 25.—Two reports were received in the Legislature today from the Committee on State Prison on the act to provide for the purchase of land and the erection of a new State Prison building. The majority report, "ought to pass," is signed by eight members of the committee. The minority report is signed by two members of the committee. The two reports were tabled for future reference.

Dies While Getting Ready for Funeral

With his best suit, which he had taken out to wear to the funeral of an old friend, lying on his bed, Charles W. Richardson, eighty, was found dead at his home, No. 55 Highland avenue, Newtonville. Medical Examiner West says death was due to natural causes. He was formerly manager of the Pacific House at Nantasket.

Harvard Men Give Up Races to Sing

Song has triumphed over athletics at Harvard, and Saturday the Crimson Glee Club with its full strength will go to New York where it is entered in the second annual intercollegiate glee club competition.

The glee club's best singers are Bill Bingham and Captain Frank Capper of the track team. They gave up a race set for Saturday in order to sing.

HIGH SOCIETY IS SCORED BY WILSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—"The world ought to grow with high society and lesser social ills," declared President Wilson in speaking at a meeting held in the interest of Berea College, Kentucky.

"High society is for those who have stopped working and no longer have anything important to do. It is very amusing sometimes to see the aim high society gives itself.

"Those who can open up the great origins of power are those who feed the nation. When one thinks of that old stock in storage there in the mountains for over a hundred years untapped, one ought to be God-speed to those men who are going there and using this old capital that has not even been put out at interest."

Hunt Missing Army Officer.

NEW LONDON, Feb. 25.—Search is being made for Second Lieutenant William H. Weggemann of the Twelfth Company, United States Coast Artillery Corps, who has been missing from Fort Wright, on Fisher's Island, for a week.

WHEN HEADACHY TAKE CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

Tonight! Clean your bowels and end headaches, colds, sour stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now.

You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes have your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes, your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean, stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

CURE YOUR COLD IN A FEW HOURS AND FEEL FINE

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine. For sale by Riker-Jaynes and all good druggists.—Advertisement.

An Easy Way to Increase Weight

Good Advice for Thin Folks

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on dragging their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been named the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its re-generative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally eat up the fattening elements of our food and fuse them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down tissue of your body. You can really notice the result in a few days' time. Cheeks begin to fill out, chest and neck grow full and well-rounded, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. All leading druggists of Boston and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution: While Sargol has given excellent results in increasing weight, strength and general stamina to thousands, it should not be taken by those who do not wish to put on pounds of flesh.

You Should Worry If

it were difficult to find a safe and reliable remedy for the ailments due to irregular or defective action of the stomach, liver or bowels. These ailments are likely to attack anyone; likely, too, to lead to worse sickness if not relieved.

Beecham's Pills

are famous the world over, for their power to correct these troubles certainly and safely. They cleanse the system, purify the blood and act as a general tonic upon body, brain and nerves. Indigestion, biliousness, constipation might, indeed, cause you prolonged suffering and expose you to danger if Beecham's Pills

Marrying a Poor Man

From His Side of the Question—Some of the Things the Man Must Do to Secure Happiness

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

IF a girl loves you enough to make exercise for your sake, shall you let her do it? Shall you ask the girl you love to marry you and share your fortune hundred for twenty or even ten hundred a year?

By all means if you are sure that you will do your share to make your marriage a success.

But if you love her a little and yourself more, go away and let her have a and little period of wondering why you did not speak. Instead of long years of regretting that you did.

You don't marry for the honeymoon, but for all the months of the long years after. Your marriage must still endure when you are past your first passion and youth, past the power of finding poverty a lark, past the glow of hoping for success such as your sober judgment tells you can never be attained with your abilities. Marriage may mean years of sickness and anxiety—long Autumns and Winter of life.

Think of this and be honest with yourself. How will you treat your sweetheart when drudgery and care has dulled her beauty and her merry charm? Will you still be her lover, her knight and her devoted friend?

Of course, poverty is about the most annoying thing in all the world. But born with a sense of honor and a real feeling of love and unselfish affection it ought to give a man more happiness for his wife than he ever could get at the more formal distance if plenty to keep them independent of each other.

If you are the sort of a man to give up smoking so you can give your wife a new silk waist for Christmas or to wear with glowing pride the awkwardly crocheted tie she gave you on your birthday, marry on your little income and be assured that you make your wife rich beyond the dreams of avarice.

The boy must be sure that he is tender and patient and fashioning and appreciative and loyal, and deeply in love before he asks the girl he wants for his wife to share his limited fortune. He must not be the sort to call her a poor manager the first time she tells him they will have to drink skim milk in their coffee for the rest of the month, because that roast beef they had Sunday was $1.65.

When a poor man asks a girl to share his meagre fortunes he must do it in the full, fine humbleness of love. He must be sure he will try to make the girl happy and consider her happiness part of his job as much as getting ahead. And he must be determined to get ahead if honesty and industry can make a man advance. He must feel that his wife is his partner and entitled to her share of all he has and all he earns. He must be thankful for the priceless gift of her love and determined to be worthy of it.

Above all, he must be determined that she shall never regret having married a poor man. And, with love in both of their hearts, marriage for a man and woman who must do without most of the luxuries of life will be blessed with its greatest luxury—real happiness.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells, and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak. I did not sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everything I would eat distressed me. One day a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. Martha Seavey, Box 1141, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love of money, and the medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

Up-to-the-Minute Jokes

Little Bobby—Papa, did you ever see a cyclone carrying houses up in the air, and cows and horses and wagons upside down?

Papa—No, my son.

Little Bobby—Did you ever see a sea serpent?

Papa—No, my son.

Little Bobby—I should think it 'ud be tiresome to live to your age and never see anything.

"Will you have the pastry or ice cream?" he asked of the seaside pearl.

"Both, please," she said demurely.

"We don't have any grass growing in our streets," asserted the American man.

"No, I dare say not," replied the Londoner. "I suppose your omnibus horses nibble it off as they browse along."

Teacher—Now, children, can you tell me what are the national flowers of England? Class—"Roses." Teacher—And Ireland? Class—"Lilies." Teacher—And Spain?" Small voice at back of the schoolroom—"Bullrushes, ma'am."

A doctor of the past generation was noted for his brusque manner and old-fashioned methods. One time a lady called him in to treat her baby, who was slightly ailing. The doctor prescribed castor oil.

"But, doctor," protested the young mother, "castor oil is such an old-fashioned remedy."

"Madam," replied the doctor, "this is an old-fashioned baby."

"What a graceful dancer your daughter is!" said a youth. "She replied her mother. "I want you to understand that my daughter dances only the latest dances! She learned several years after gracefulness went out of date."

Murphy, the ferryman, had been asked to take a heavy trunk across the river. He placed the trunk in the bow of the boat, with the result that the boat tipped forward. "What are you rowing with that trunk in the bow of the boat for?" asked a friend. "Sure, an' if it was in the stern wouldn't I be rowin' uphill all the time? An' this way I'm rowin' down hill all the time!" explained Murphy.

Harold Hilton, the golfer, tells a story of a Scottish caddie who always wore a "deerstalker" cap with the flap tied tightly down over his ears.

"I hinna had them doon since ma accident," replied the caddie.

"Accident!" exclaimed the golfer, "what accident? I haven't heard about it."

"Ah, well," the caddie explained, "ye see, a gentleman offered me a drink oot of his whusky-flask, an' I dinna hear him."

A Story of Love and Laughter Based on the Great Comedy Success of the Same Name

(Based on the entertaining play by Edward Peple, now playing at Ye Wyllow Theatre. Copyright, 1914, by International News Service, sole owner of serial rights.)

Novelized By A. A. WATERBURY, Novelizer of "The Family Cupboard," "At Bay," etc., etc.

CUDDLE stood expectant. Her tongue in her cheek and her fingers twitched to clasp her chosen swain close in the presence of witnesses. She slid the heel of her flat shoe across the rug and back again in vicious anticipation. And then Boggs collapsed into a chair and put his hand to his head and began moaning. "Oh, my head! Poor old Boggs' poor old head!"

"Warmint! Wiper!" muttered Coddle.

Nellie prepared to repay sympathetic understanding with understanding sympathy. She fell on her knees by the chair where cowered the moaning man.

"Get up!" yelled her husband, fairly dancing with rage. "Stop making a fuss about that jellyfish. If I were as drunk as that you'd be retaining Van to draw up a divorce!"

"Poor boy! He has cause to drink himself into forgetting," snapped Nellie. "Probably it doesn't seem worth your while to consider how you would have felt once upon a time if anyone had put you into a similar position before me. Oh-h-h-h-! A man who will treat his defenseless partner so won't stop at anything when it comes to his defenceless wife. Oh-h-h-h!"

"She's off again," chuckled Van sympathetically.

"Oh, what a night," shouted the master of the house. "Here Van, you take his head and I'll take his feet and we'll get this drunken idiot up to his room, and then we'll go to a hotel for dinner."

"And leave the poor thing to suffer alone?" moaned Nellie. But at the mention of going to a hotel for dinner she had begun to brighten a bit and was cautiously dabbing her nose with a bit of swansdown.

"No, we won't leave him to suffer alone," said her husband righteously. "Here, Coddle, get a basin of ice-water and some cloths and you can sit and bathe his head."

A look of slow and heavenly rapture dawned on Coddle's face. And one of quick agony o'erspread the recently bland countenance of T. Boggs Johns.

"I feel inhuman going off and leaving T. to suffer—remorse and——" ventured Nellie.

"It'll be remorse all right," shouted Van.

"Go and order a table at the Valthorpe and quit sniffing over this hunk of humanity," said George with such savage emphasis that Johns knew there was balm in Gilead after all.

Fifteen minutes later a taxi whirled the Nettletons and Thomas J. Vanderholt to the very hotel where Florence Cole, alone and unchaperoned, had ventured to send for the manager and tell him that she had been compelled to stop in New York on some most important business and that her father, the Senator, had felt that she would be safest right there in the Valthorpe. A play of dimples and sparkling eyes had convinced the manager that it was worth staking his life and reputation to see that no harm came to Miss Cole.

TWO FRIENDS

With his statelliest air the manager escorted his lovely charge to the elevator, and any further vouching for was furnished when that young woman was seized in the embrace of the pretty young bride who occupied the most expensive suite in the ultra-expensive Valthorpe.

"Flossie Cole!" shouted a glad voice.

"Bessie Skinner!" shouted another.

"Bessie Applegate!" corrected glad voiced number one. "And this is Mr. Applegate—my husband. Dearest, I want you to meet my old roommate at Pulham Manor—my schoolgirl chum."

The president of the Northwestern Drug Company was delighted to meet so charming a friend of his wife's. The manager of the Valthorpe was delighted to oblige two such charming ladies, especially when in the background lurked the greatest drug baron of the Middle West. And so presently Miss Cole was duly installed three doors away from the prettiest little chaperon imaginable and was fluffing up in a borrowed frock and preparing to dine on the Valthorpe roof with the Appletons and a "clever young chap in whom they were interested."

Now we will have to take a little survey of the past week in order to find just how grave was the danger threatening the affairs of George R. Nettleton and his butler-partner, T. Boggs Johns.

When Tony Toler took Miss Sally Parker to dinner on the eventful evening after he was dismissed from the employ of the Eureka Digestive Pill Company events began to shape themselves for the utter destruction of that company. Sally was proud of the news she had to impart and Tony fairly shouted with laughter at her story of how one hand of "show down poker" had metamorphosed T. Boggs Johns into one "Boggs"—butler.

"Say, kiddo" said he, "how'd you think that old firm is going to stand without Johns and me to hustle? If there was any competition in the pill business it 'ud knock 'em galley west."

"Why don't you start a rival firm, Tony, and show 'em something? Get old Kromic away from 'em—he knows chemistry and formulas all right. Maybe little Sallie could design you a color and a pill box—and you are known as the snappiest salesman in the business.

CURLEY TO BRING JOHNSON HIS WAY

By LEWIS T. MATSON.

EL PASO, Feb. 25.—In an final attempt to induce Jack Johnson to come to Mexico and fulfil his engagement to fight Jess Willard at Juarez, Jack Curley, the promoter of the contest, left for Havana today.

Curley believes that he can allay the champion's fears of dire calamity if he comes to Mexico and was confident before leaving that he would bring the big black with him, and that the championship go would be pulled off not later than March 17.

But Curley is alone in this belief. The concensus among the fight fans is that Johnson will not come to Mexico now or at any other time.

He is just simply afraid—not afraid of meeting Willard in the ring—but afraid that the moment he steps on Mexican soil his libeaty would be placed in jeopardy.

And the champion is not taking any chances. He is willing to fight—in fact anxious to prove that he is superior to all other fighters, but he wants the fight to be pulled off in Havana.

The latest reports from Havana are that Johnson will not leave Cuba. He wired the promoters here that he will meet Willard, but that the fight must be pulled off in Havana.

And the general opinion is that Curley will have a hard job to convince the champion he can leave Cuba with perfect safety.

Willard after a day of idleness again resumed light training today. He does not care where the fight takes place so long as he meets the champion as he is confident of winning the battle.

BEAUTY DOCTOR TELLS SECRET

Detroit Beauty Doctor Gives Simple Recipe to Darken Gray Hair and Promote Its Growth.

Miss Alice Whitney, a well known beauty doctor of Detroit, Mich., recently gave out the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, promote its growth, and make it soft and glossy. To half a pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of the hair, relieve itching and scalp diseases and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair.

Fight Called Off, Johnson Wires

TORONTO, Feb. 25.—Tom Flanagan, trainer, today received a cablegram from Jack Johnson at Havana, saying the champion has called off his fight with Jess Willard at Juarez, Mexico, scheduled for March 6. The fight, Johnson said, will take place in Havana. Flanagan trained Johnson for his fight with Jeffries at Reno in 1910.

No Dartmouth Hockey Series for Harvard

Harvard and Dartmouth will not meet in hockey again this season. The Harvard team has closed its season and Coach Winsor says "if Dartmouth had sought two contests before the seasons schedule was made up they would have likely got them." Dartmouth would also like to arrange another contest with Yale. The Green team, while it had an easy win over Harvard, lost a hard fought overtime match against Yale.

The Crimson will soon elect a captain for next season. Three men are eligible for the place, Alan Cunningham, who broke his collar bone just previous to the second Yale contest; Gus Doty, the chunky coverpoint who has been in the game since Captain Claflin pulled a tendon in the St. Nicholas match, and Elmer Wanamaker, brother of the Dartmouth Captain.

Either Doty or Wanamaker are likely to win, the latter being the only public school boy amongst the candidates eligible to vote. The men who will ballot follows: Claflin, Morgan, Doty, Wylde, Baldwin, Baker, Cunningham, Townsend, Phillips, Wanamaker and Fisher.

Brother vs. Brother for Racquet Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—J. C. Waterbury won his match from William Post of Tuxedo in the second round of the national amateur racquet championship tournament at the Racquet and Tennis Club here, and will meet his brother, Lawrence Waterbury, holder of the national title, in one of the semi-final matches today.

In the other match George A. Thorne of Chicago was eliminated by C. C. Pell of Tuxedo, and the winner will meet Stanley G. Mortimer of home club today.

Rube Marquard to Go South with Giants

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Rube Marquard, who jumped to the Brooklyn Federals early in the Winter, will leave for the Marlin, Tex., training camp of the New York Giants with others of the team, according to a list of players given out today by Secretary John B. Foster of the club. The list of the men to start for the Texas camp includes the following: Manager McGraw, Mathewson, Marquard, Burns, Thorpe, Pfez, Devlin, McLean, Press, Wendell, Williams and Chalmers.

Schmidt's Start Is Delayed by Business

Charley Schmidt, the big first baseman of the Braves, will not accompany the main body of world's champions to their training camp at Macon, Ga., according to word received at the club headquarters. Schmidt has some business to clear, up in Baltimore before leaving for camp and therefore will be unable to join his teammates when they reach his station.

RED SOX OFFICE ALIVE WITH FANS

By A. H. C. MITCHELL.

The Red Sox are ready to start South. We have just one more week in which to make that statement for one week from today the Red Sox really will start South. Everything is ready. If there is anything Manager Bill Carrigan hasn't thought of just send him a postal card reminding him of the fact.

There is nothing to do these days at Red Sox headquarters, but "fan." And certainly there is enough of hope there each week day to fill a book. The Red Sox office is the gathering place of all kinds of leaguers—American, International, New England, veteran and bush.

FANS A-PLENTY.

Today for example, there were on hand when the talk started, besides President Lannin, Manager Carrigan and the office force, Charlie Farrell, the Duke of Marlboro; Dan Howley, manager of the Montreal club; Tommy Madden, the catcher they only carry about one catcher in that league this year; Hugh Duffy, the wholesale clothing merchant and owner of the Portland club; Tommy McCarthy, captain of the Red Sox scouts; Patsy Donovan, Red Sox scout; the owner of the Syracuse club; Dan Noonan, owner of the Haverhill club; Louis Pieper, owner of the Lynn club; Joe Sullivan, owner of the Lawrence club, and a raft of others.

Duke Farrell leaves for the South tomorrow. He is under contract to the New York Americans to help out Manager Donovan with the battery men. The Yanks will train at Savannah this year.

EATS IN THE N. E. LEAGUE.

"Yes, I'll hit the rattler at 2.08 on Saturday afternoon from the Pennsylvania depot in New York," remarked Farrell.

"And hit the dining car promptly at 6 o'clock," observed Hugh Duffy.

"Of course, of course," replied the Duke. "I can still eat a few."

"How are the dining cars in the New England League, Hugh?" asked Carrigan.

"The players won't travel in 'em," returned the Portland impressario.

"How much do you allow 'em when they are on the road in your league?" asked the Duke. "About fifty cents a meal, I suppose."

"We give each of 'em a dollar and a quarter."

"Gee, that's pretty swell. They only allowed us a dollar per meal when I was in the big league," observed the Duke.

"Per meal!" exclaimed Duffy. "Per meal nothing. We give each man a dollar and a quarter when the team starts out on a trip. That goes him home."

THE DUKE LOOKS WELL.

The Duke is looking very well. That embonpoint is not so visible to the naked eye as it used to be. Yes, the Duke is looking very trim.

Dan Howley says he has received a letter from Wilson Collins, the Vanderbilt College boy, formerly of the Braves, asking for a job, but there are none to be had on the Montreal club, Howley says. The limit is sixteen men per club in the International this year and Howley has all but three of his men signed up.

There will be a schedule meeting of the New England League at the Quincy House today. They say that everything has been straightened out in the L. O. N. E. circuit and the magnates of the organization predict a banner year in spite of the hard and poor condition of the national game.

Federal League Bars Emery Ball

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The "emery ball" will be driven out of the Federal League. A rule calling for a fine of $200 on a pitcher guilty of "roughing" the ball will be passed at the Federal League meeting in Buffalo the end of the week.

Ganzel Leads Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 25.—John H. Ganzel today came to terms with the owners of the Rochester International League Club and will manage the team for the coming season. This will be his seventh year with the local club.

May Transfer Haverhill Club to Fitchburg

FITCHBURG, Feb. 25.—The Haverhill New England League baseball team may be transferred to Fitchburg. Daniel Noonan, owner of the Haverhill franchise, and Louis Pieper, manager of the local club, conferred with W. W. Sargent, president of the Fitchburg & Leominster Street Railway Company and part owner of the baseball plant, regarding the transfer of Haverhill to the scene of Tom Keads deciding to locate in Manchester.

Pieper, one of the Fitchburg baseball plant, one of the best in the league, has been offered Keads and Noonan, and it is understood that the Haverhill proposition will have to stay in the air until Keads accepts or rejects the offer.

Bruce Kiernan, manager of the Fall River Colonial League team, would probably manage the league team here having succeeded Tom Moran, a Fitchburg boy, manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, is also a Fitchburg boy, and Fitchburg of big league players who might be farmed out by the Phillies.

Harvard-Yale Nines to Play Three Games

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Feb. 25.—The Yale University baseball schedule for the coming season, as announced today, contains thirty-two games, a longer number than usual. A feature of the schedule is a series of three games with both Harvard and Princeton.

The schedule:

April 1, Georgetown at Washington; April 2, April 3, Georgetown at Washington; April 4, Lehigh at Bethlehem; April 5, University of Virginia at Charlottesville; Pennsylvania at Baltimore; April 6, Pennsylvania at Baltimore; April 7, Fordham at New Haven; April 8, Fordham at New Haven; April 10, Trinity at New Haven; April 11, Trinity at New Haven; April 13, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; April 14, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; April 15, Columbia at New Haven; April 17, Holy Cross at Worcester; April 18, Georgetown at New Haven; May 1, Cornell at Ithaca; May 2, Cornell at Ithaca; May 4, Williams at New Haven; May 6, Lafayette at New Haven; May 8, Vermont at New Haven; May 9, New Haven; May 12, Dartmouth at New Haven; May 13, Dartmouth at New Haven; May 15, Holy Cross at Worcester; May 19, Harvard at New Haven; May 20, Harvard at New Haven; June 9, Boston College at New Haven; June 10, Princeton at New Haven; June 12, Princeton at New York; June 13, Princeton at New York; June 15, Harvard at New Haven; June 16, Harvard at New Haven; June 17, Harvard at Cambridge; June 26, Harvard at Boston.

Cleveland Riflemen Set World's Record

WOLGAST BREAKS HIS ARM AGAIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Ad Wolgast has been forced to call off his fight with Leach Cross, which was scheduled to be held at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. The former lightweight champion fractured his right forearm again while working out with his sparring partner.

Matchmaker Jimmy Johnson, however, found a suitable substitute in Johnny Dundee, the little Italian scrapper. Dundee has been training for a month for the many matches he has on hand and he will step into the ring ready to put up his best game.

Wolgast broke his arm Tuesday at Downing's Gymnasium, but it was not until yesterday that he knew it was busted.

The former champion was on dismissed with matters that he packed his trunk and left for Chicago.

"I was never in better condition in my life," said Wolgast just before he departed for the Windy City.

"I really believed the old soup bone was as good as ever and was confident that the cross fight would prove be a stepping stone back to the championship. But I guess I am done now.

"I was confident of stopping Cross and then I was going after Welsh for a finish fight. I was ready to go for the limit. I know that Welsh is done and that it will only be a matter of a few more fights before the title changes hands again."

Each Pitcher to Have Own Style

Bill Donovan does not believe in making a pitcher change his style of delivery. Listen to Billyum and see if he does not speak words of wisdom.

"There is no use in trying to make every pitcher work the same way," he said. "I've seen a lot of good men ruined because some manager or other wanted them to change their style of delivery. No matter how awkward or wierd a motion may look to the manager, he should go very slow in trying to break the pitcher a free seat if throwing the ball. There is no one correct pitching style, but if you pin me right down I must admit that I think the man with the side arm motion has the edge on all his rivals."

Joe Higgins Will Run in Title Race

Joe Higgins, the crack Yale Cross middle-distance runner, will be able to compete in the New England indoor championships to be held at Lowell Saturday. Higgins received a hurt his ankle in a fall in one of the college dormitories and for a long time it was thought that he would not be able to run again this season. He has since recovered sufficiently however, and will start in the 100-yard run at Lowell.

Let the Pitchers Do the Curving

Branch Rickey, manager of the Browns, thinks a young pitcher is foolish to throw curves and other things when he is an infielder, outfielder or a catcher. It is all right for a hurler, but not for the others until they have learned how to throw the straight ball and nothing else.

That's how I lost my arm," said the leader of the Browns. "I thought I owned a spitter before I came to Boston. It will embrace part of the old oval at Harrison, N. J., a suburb of Newark, and also 113 building lots adjoining the oval.

K. C. FEDS WILL LOCATE IN NEWARK

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Patrick T. Powers announced today that he had closed the one-time Kansas City Federal League club in Newark, N. J. Powers said that not until Monday was the decision made between locating in the Bronx or in Newark.

The playing field of the Newark Federals will be the largest in the country. It will embrace part of the old oval at Harrison, N. J., a suburb of Newark, and also 113 building lots adjoining the oval.

C. B. Comstock, vice-president of the Brooklyn Federals, and the man who designed the Brooklyn Federals' concrete stadium, will have charge of the drawing of the plans for the Newark stands.

Sweetser Is Lost to Harvard Crew

Coach Jim Wray of the Harvard crews has made two changes in the second varsity eight, Sweetser, who rowed at No. 7, has been displaced by Sloper, and Richardson has taken Jeffries' place at No. 3. Sweetser was assisted in the senior boat, but just when his chances looked best he got into difficulties with the college office and as a result will row no more this year.

Harvard Bock Beer Announcement

WE TAKE pleasure in announcing that Harvard Bock Beer is now on sale.

We are not in position to claim that it is any better than the Harvard Bock Beers of previous years, for we have never spared any trouble or expense in the past in our efforts to produce a Bock Beer of the finest quality, and we feel that in this brew each year we have approached as near to perfection as possible.

In the brewing of Harvard Bock Beer we use the finest caramel malt procurable and the choicest of imported Bohemian hops.

This beer was brewed in August, 1914, so that it has already attained in our immense storage vaults an age of over six months.

It has a most delightful flavor, is full bodied and creamy, and has a rich color, for which the caramel malt is responsible, without the aid of artificial coloring.

It is a real Bock Beer of exceptional quality, and we know that it will be extremely pleasing to those who avail themselves of the opportunity of trying it.

It can be procured, either on draught or in bottles, from all dealers who endeavor to serve their patrons the best Bock Beer procurable.

Hammond Would Restrict Area for Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—Senator Hammond today replied to the Senate resolution maintaining that doctrine as applied to the affairs of South America. The purpose of that resolution, he said, was to create an impression that the Senate contemplated a change in the Monroe doctrine, to the detriment of the Latin-American republics. He declared that it would be a mistake to carry the application of the Monroe doctrine to the States of Central America, Mexico and the West Indies, as it has been in the Caribbean Sea.

To attack the confidence of the Latin-American republics in the United States, he said, would be a serious offense that cannot be condoned by the action of the American countries. I cannot approve the creation of a Pan-American Supreme Court.

Loses 30 Pounds in Fast for Beauty

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Mae Bella McArthur broke her "beauty fast," begun on January 22, by munching two soda crackers early today. Later in the day she planned to eat a dish of milk toast. Mrs. McArthur was successful in the pursuit of beauty, for she lost 30 pounds and regain a clear complexion. She lost thirty pounds in thirty-two days' substistence on water and a stick of celery a day and quit when she weighed 125 pounds.

"Overeating is a habit that brings much suffering to the soul. It is not hard to fast. It is merely a question of setting your mind on a day to start and a day to quit."

Colombia 'Apology' TTreaty Is Rejected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The treaty with Colombia, negotiated by Secretary Bryan, expressing regret over the situation that had arisen out of the establishment of the Republic of Panama and agreeing to pay Colombia $25,000,000 as indemnity, was rejected today. The vote was 35 to 19. Several wounded Senators were practically killed under the first session of heat, by the Foreign Relations Committee. A favorable report was refused.

Colonel Roosevelt wrote Senator Lodge a personal letter, but in a letter said that "the purpose of the treaty is blackmail pure and simple."

Name Committee for Technique

The Technique Electoral Council (see, the committee which will have charge of the Junior Prom at M. I. T. Technique, 1915), has been elected in the sophomore class. Finley for Military Training in Schools

CINCINNATI, Feb. 25.—John H. Finley, head of the New York State Department of Education, at the National Educational Association convention opposed the Swanwick programme of military protection favored by Major-General Wood. While objecting to warlike ideals to the schools, he said:

"We shall have to provide for protection. For a time we shall have to train some men in about as other nations."

Giants' Big Pitcher Pays Miss Young, Who Claimed Marriage Promise.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The $25,000 breach of promise suit brought against Jeff Tesreau, the Giants' pitcher, by Miss Clara Young of Perrysville, Mo., has been compromised by the payment by Tesreau of a sum of money.

It is understood that the settlement was brought about through Tesreau's desire to avoid being compelled to come to New York to defend the suit at a time when he should be training at Marlin Springs, Texas. Last Fall Tesreau was required to file a bond for $25,000 or insure his presence in this county when the case was called for trial and had he failed to appear the bond would have been forfeited.

Miss Young brought her suit not long after Tesreau married Miss Helen Hilke.

Becker to Ask for Third Trial Today

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—A motion that Charles Becker be granted a third trial on the charge of murdering Herman Rosenthal will be made before Justice Weeks in Supreme Court today. The motion will be based on an alleged affidavit made by James Marshall, a negro witness.

QUERY SERVICE BOARD ON B. & M.

A sub-committee of the Legislative Committee on Railroads will formulate today specific questions to submit to the Public Service Commission to determine the attitude of the latter board on Legislation for the reconsideration of the Boston & Maine.

This action is considered an indication that no radical legislation will be improved without the recommendation of the Public Service Commission.

The sub-committee is composed of Senators Hobbs and Wells, and Representative Washburn. The questions framed by this sub-committee will be submitted to the whole Committee on Railroads before being presented to the board.

The members of the Committee on Railroads are known most of them, to be against Chairman Hall's charges of railroad laws of the State, even to save the Boston & Maine from receivership.

Some of this majority, however, are also opposed to the plan of the trustees of the road, would favor legislation, if approved by the Public Service Board, to permit a reorganization of the railroad.

President Maitland and Commissioner Eastman of the Public Service Board, have already appeared before the committee against the legislation push. They did not, however, commit themselves in regard to other legislation.

MOTOR NOTES

By J. C. KERRISON.

According to information received yesterday by Secretary Fortescue of the Massachusetts State Automobile Association, the Lincoln Highway is far from being completed. A friend of his who is touring to the coast, writes him from Santa Barbara as follows: "The famous Lincoln Highway from this city to Fresno is very much advertised. In fact, it is overadvertised and at the present time there is no opportunity to tour with any comfort whatever from here to Fresno. The rainy season had been exceedingly heavy and in many places the roadway and even the cement supporters have been washed away and there is no traveling over the roads from Santa Barbara to Fresno or Los Angeles. I am awfully glad that I have not a heavy car, as I feel confident that if I had I should need more than one derrick to extricate me from the quagmires that are found on this so-called highway."

L. H. Sanders, local manager of the Oakland Motor Car Company, left Boston yesterday for a trip to the factory. Mr. Sanders goes West via Orange for the immediate shipment of his show models.

The latest car to find an abiding place in the Boston motor mart is the Paige, which is to be handled in this section by Hayes-Johnson & Company with headquarters at No. 311 Boylston street. Mr. Hayes, the head of the new concern, is by no means a stranger to Bostonians, as for years he was connected with the pioneer dealers of Boston. The Pilot is an excellent line and is destined to attract most favorable attention in this locality.

W. H. Schwarz, sales manager of the Metz Company, is making a swing around the New England territory, visiting his dealers in that section.

Wide-Awake Apartment Dwellers Know Where to Look

To find the best apartments listed. They look in the columns of the paper which carries the most of this class of advertising—the Boston American.

The following figures show that the American carries more "Apartment To Let" advertising than all other papers combined in Boston with a daily and Sunday circulation. Here's the proof:

Week Ending February 20, 1915.

	American Ads	Globe Ads	Herald Ads	Post Ads
Sunday	98	184	27	6
Monday	50	13	5	..
Tuesday	47	20	6	..
Wednesday	57	24	7	1
Thursday	46	18	6	1
Friday	57	13	6	1
Saturday	62	17	10	2
The Total	417	289	67	11

These figures prove beyond any doubt that the American is the logical medium to use in Boston to fill vacancies. You may leave your ads at 8582 Summer St., 264 Washington St., or

Here Is a Spirit Great Enough to Triumph Over Age and Affliction

Sarah Bernhardt's Sublime Courage Matches Her Wonderful Genius

Copyright, 1915, by the Star Company

Past seventy years old, worn by many years of tremendously hard physical and mental work, Sarah Bernhardt, the great French actress, preferred the amputation of a leg rather than six months or a year of enforced idleness.

At a time of life when most women and most men would be crushed by the weight of years alone, she calmly informed the surgeons that she was too busy with her work to take the rest that they said might obviate an operation. She wrote to her friends that she would have to be a little while in the hospital, speaking of what they regarded as a dreadful calamity in the most cheerful and matter-of-fact way possible.

Wonderful as is the genius of Bernhardt, her courage is quite a match for it.

Although in her long and marvellous career she has earned the very highest honors of the stage, she was unwilling to take her reward in ease and money while she still had the strength to entertain and uplift humanity.

In her life Bernhardt has been the inspiration of millions of people.

So remarkable was her gift of expression that it made little difference to the spectator whether or not he understood the language in which she gave her plays.

She could have interpreted almost any drama of Sardou or Shakespeare without a single word, and in her face and gestures and postures she would have plainly told the story of the emotions that the playwright had set down in writing.

Great were the obstacles this brilliant woman had to overcome. Conscious of her genius and of her ability to triumph in the end, she persisted, never resting on her laurels, never contenting herself with the fame that was hers as soon as she gained any recognition at all.

Her life on the stage has been a continuous effort to do better, to take on harder and harder work and improve, and then to improve upon the improvement.

She was never contented with what she had done. Great as were her characterizations, she felt that she could do them better by giving time and labor and thought to her work, and she never spared it.

She did not understand the meaning of rest as most people understand it. For her rest was to be on the stage, to interpret to an audience the great thoughts and ideas of great authors.

Besides delighting and instructing great audiences wherever she went, Bernhardt was a constant inspiration to the members of her profession. Her work raised the difficult art of acting to a higher plane. Her achievements stimulated many players to attempt what seemed the impossible, and actually to accomplish it.

A marvellous career has been Sarah Bernhardt's, a career of almost superhuman toil, and of success such as has seldom been achieved by any actress.

But in her greatest successes she remained unspoiled and kindly, always ready to help others with her money and her talent, always patient and always cheerful.

In an affliction that would have embittered perhaps nine hundred people in every thousand she has remained brave and patient, considering herself not at all, thinking only of the great work yet remaining for her to do.

From her there has come no word of complaint, no cry for sympathy.

Such courage is truly as heroic as that with which the bravest soldier faces death in the trenches.

The example of this noble woman will be a lesson to all humanity for many years to come—an example of the triumph of womanhood as well as of the triumph of genius.

It Is Painful to Note the Number of Apostates to the Democratic Faith in Legislature

It is painful to note the number of apostates to the Democratic faith who revealed themselves in the Legislature on the question of holding a Constitutional Convention and on that of Woman Suffrage.

The two alleged Democratic Representatives from Ward 17, James H. Oakhem and John J. Reilly, both voted against a Constitutional Convention, which two Democratic State conventions have successively endorsed and which Governor Walsh has twice urged upon the Legislature.

The great corporations are opposed to the Constitutional Convention. They know that a Constitutional Convention would take away many of their valuable privileges. They know that it would give the people a better system of taxation, in order that the rent payer and small property owner may not be obliged to pay so much more than their fair share of the taxes. They know that a Constitutional Convention would give us the initiative and referendum, which would deprive them of the power to control the Legislature and to get such legislation as they demand in their own private interests. They know that there has been no Constitutional Convention in several generations and that in many respects our State Constitution, though a splendid organic law when it was first enacted, has been outgrown in many respects by the development of the country and the advance in processes of government and in Democratic ideals.

Ward 17 was misrepresented two years ago by gentlemen who voted to give the New Haven Railroad the street railways in more than half the State of Massachusetts, WHEN THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION HAD DENOUNCED THIS MONSTROUS BILL AND THE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR HAD VETOED IT. How long do the Democrats of Ward 17 intend to allow their Representatives to misrepresent them? Is there any real manhood in this ward? Are there any real American citizens there who appreciate the right to vote? Mayor Curley, through his man Sullivan, appeared before the Legislature in opposition to a Constitutional Convention a few weeks ago. Does he think for Ward 17? Have the people of Ward 17 any minds of their own? Is it a slave ward?

It is to the honor of the Democratic party that these two Representatives were the only two Democrats in the Legislature who were untrue to the Democratic platform on the Constitutional Convention. But it is unfortunate that the list of Democrats who were unfaithful to their party platform on the Woman Suffrage question is much larger.

Here are the names of the gentlemen who broke faith on the Woman Suffrage question:

James J. Brennan, Boston.
Charles F. Garrity, Worcester.
Jeremiah J. Kelley, Boston.
Joseph LaFlamme, Sturbridge.
Martin M. Lomasney, Boston.
Michael F. Malone, Worcester.
Dennis A. Murphy, Lowell.
Dennis F. Reardon, Boston.
Alfred Santosuosso, Boston.

Mr. Lomasney's error is most unfortunate. He has one of the longest records in the history of our Legislature and many a political opponent has scanned it in vain to find a vote of his recorded there which was contrary to fundamental Democratic principles. Surely he does not intend to anti-climax such a record.

On the other hand, Mr. Alfred Santosuosso's public career is as short as Mr. Lomasney's is long. In the brief space of Mr. Santosuosso's first legislative session he has dodged the Constitutional Convention bill and he voted against the bill to submit the question of Woman Suffrage to the voters. Ward 6 must be proud of Mr. Santosuosso.

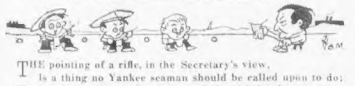
More Truth Than Poetry

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

Secretary Daniels

He may not know a warship from a Mississippi raft,
He may not know a gunboat from a South Bay oyster craft,
He may believe that schooners are the things that barkeeps steer
Over bars in certain places loaded full of deadly beer;
He may be shy on sea lore, but he's certainly a bear
In picking out the clothing that the middies have to wear.

He thinks that port and starboard never ought to soil the lips
Or to sailorize the diction of the employes of ships;
All nautical expressions, such as hand and reef and steer,
He denounces as misleading, indirect and insincere;
But the simple, soulful sailor man he sedulously teaches
To quote the swinging rhetoric in Mr. Bryan's speeches.



The pointing of a rifle, in the Secretary's view,
Is a thing no Yankee seaman should be called upon to do;
The powder stains the hands so, and the risk is often great
That through somebody's carelessness the gun might detonate.
For the pursuits of sailor men he does not care a bit,
But he has never yet refused to show them how to knit.

Apples and Health

By ELBERT HUBBARD

A DOCTOR'S bill doesn't always have to be paid at once. Apples are generally bought for cash.

But in the long run, apples are much cheaper than medical service. The old maxim still holds, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

As a race we have never had enough fruit. We have lived too much on meat and white flour. Any doctor will tell you that there are a hundred diseases that would absolutely disappear if we would adopt a fruit diet, say for one meal a day.

Apples agree with everyone. Apples tend to modify the demands of the Meat Trust. Increase the flow of bile, and their plentiful use will add to our happiness and length of days by eliminating the dregs of much pessimistic theology that yet clogs our social system.

In apple season, when you saunter through an American orchard and see a pile of Nature's Health Nuggets, you think of a painting by Turner. Old Sol has dipped into Mother Earth's palette and colored them with gold, russet and vermilion drawn out of the soil, and then flavored them with an Elysian essence.

Later, man learned to co-operate by spraying the trees, irrigating, plowing and leveling the soil. And it came to pass that the world learned that art in apple culture paid.

The apple growers of California, Oregon, Washington and Colorado were the orchard teachers of this country. They made the farmers of the East realize that apples might well be taken seriously—that they were not a sort of garden truck.

The Hood River Valley apples have attained an international reputation. This Hood River Valley is one of the most picturesque and beautiful spots one can imagine. The cool nights and the warm sunshine of the days seem to contribute exactly the right conditions for apple culture. However, there are many other districts that can produce just as good fruit as the Hood River Valley, provided the same amount of genius is brought to bear.

I admire the Hood River Valley apples, but I admire the Hood River people more. They have brought genius to bear in the business of apple culture and apple salesmanship. They know how to prepare their wares for the market in the most attractive shape.

Many American apples command a price in England. I have paid a shilling for an American apple and had it brought in on a silver platter with the original wrapper upon it, duly served by a flunky in side whiskers, who expected a tip for his genius in selection. And, really, I was a little proud of the fact that the people in America occasionally do their work so superbly well.

And, as the years go by, apple culture will receive a degree of attention that it has never had before. Fruits, vegetables and poultry are now being regarded just as important as corn, wheat and oats, and perhaps a little more so.

We prefer to buy our doctors by the barrel, bushel or box, rather than by the "call."

Much Marital Misery, Dorothy Dix Declares, Is Caused by Money

Husbands and Wives Could Eliminate One Source of Friction, She Says, by Having Definite Understanding Like Business Partners Before Beginning Life Together

By DOROTHY DIX

FROM time to time I have expressed the opinion that much of the misery of matrimony was merely a matter of money, and that if the financial question could be settled definitely and fairly between a man and a woman before they entered into a life partnership, as it would be settled between two men who were going into business together, it would eliminate one ever present source of friction in the household, and make for peace and harmony.

The average American husband is not a tightwad. As a general thing he wants his family to have every possible thing that he can afford to give them. BUT he is as set against giving his wife an allowance as he is against death. He does not want to let her have the handling of the money. He wants her to come to him for every penny, and even when he doesn't mind giving her what she asks for, he likes to growl a bit about it.

Wife Writhes Under Injustice of Never Having Any Money of Her Own

All of this infuriates the wife. She feels like a beggar rattling a tin cup every time she asks her husband for money. She writhes under the injustice of never having any money of her own that comes to her, not as a gratuity, but as self-respecting money that she has earned by her own labor. It makes her envious to see working women with their own pocketbooks when she knows that she works ten times as hard as any of them, and has no pocketbook.

Why men are so opposed to granting their wives the boon of an allowance nobody knows. It would even save husbands money to do so because any woman could manage her affairs better if she knew how much she was going to have to spend instead of just having to guess how big a bill her husband would stand for, or how much she could jolly him out of. It is a fact, however, that most men are unalterably fixed in their determination not to give wife an allowance, or any money of her own, and that when you commence talking to one about it, he immediately flies off at a tangent and grows self-righteously indignant at what he calls woman's attempt to "commercialize marriage."

One of these indignant gentlemen has recently written me as follows:

"True love and affection, the only justifiable basis of matrimony, cannot be measured by dollars and cents any more than you can add together potatoes and pig iron. Whenever a woman attempt to place matrimony on a dollar and cent basis, they should be treated upon a strictly business basis, and be compelled to give value received, and this value received must be estimated by the standard which they wish to establish, and in which they expect payment, viz., cold, hard cash."

What nonsense, and what a begging of the question! The real service that a wife gives her husband is spiritual. It is a love and a tenderness that cannot be bought, a loyalty and devotion that can never be repaid.

Actual Service of Most Wives Worth More Than Husbands Can Pay

Beyond that, though, the average wife could send in a bill for actual services, payable in money, that would bankrupt any man who was not a millionaire. Suppose wife sent in her little account at the end of the month for scrubbing, for acting as purchasing agent, for nursing the baby, for caring for the elder children, for acting as sick nurse, for entertaining company, for pressing trousers, for cleaning suits, and for acting as companion?

Cooking, cleaning, scrubbing, sewing, nursing, sick nursing, entertaining company, tutoring children, are all different professions, you know, for which a man would have to pay if he had a family, and didn't have a wife who lumped them all in her day's work. So you see the wife does really earn her board and keep and a little spending money besides.

Of course, it is very beautiful and idyllic to say that no question of money should ever come up between a husband and wife. The trouble is, this is a prosaic world in which we can't move an inch without paying our way. Therefore the money question is perpetually with us, and it's because men don't settle it fairly with their wives that there is eternal conflict between them on the subject—and it's going to be there until men make up their minds to "come across."

Woman Who Cannot Properly Handle Few Dollars Not Fit to Be Wife

If a woman is too big a fool to handle a few dollars she has not sense enough to make a desirable wife. If she is so dishonest that she cannot be trusted with an allowance, she's too big a thief to become the mother of a man's children. If a woman is sensible and honest, what excuse can a husband give for denying her the independence that comes of having her own money?

There is no man who would not feel himself degraded by having to ask even the most generous of fathers for money every time he wanted a dollar. Women feel exactly the same way about it, and if husbands only realized this there would be very few mean enough to put this humiliation upon their wives.

It's stuff and nonsense to talk about women trying to commercialize matrimony by asking their husbands for a little allowance of their own. It's men who commercialize matrimony, and drive a cruel hard bargain, too, when they take the work of a woman's hands, and the devotion of her soul, and begrudge her a dollar of her own.

MY DIARY

By JANE M'LEAN

A LITTLE friend who knows my inmost mind,
A shrewd adviser, a companion kind,
Who weighs the actions of my fevered day
And measures out my time, for work and play.
And through the hours I come to her at night
And tell of all the shadows, dreams and light
That come and go, and when youth beggared flees
Through her I still have all my memories.
Through her what deeper dreams I feel and see,
Sure that she is the greater part of me.
